SATURDAY'S EVENTS | arrivale, and don't mind saying that we CONCERT BARYTONE TO MAKE FUND GROW

Food Show, Rummage Sale and Concert of Blind Will Do Bit.

Tobacco Gifts.

Saturday will be an important day in the current history of THE SUN Tobacco of the Rhine sone will have their culmination then.

One of these is the food show, which has been held all week in the Thirtsenth Regiment Armory in Brooklyn, from the receipts of which a present has been offered to the fund to speed its work. The proceeds of the rummage sales of the week at 65 East Thirty-ninth street, of which in part the fund is a beneatidary, will be reckoned up then too, and on Saturday night will occur the annual benefit concert of the Blind Men's Improvement Club of New York, the management of which has expressed a hope that in the event of sufficient success they may make the fund a donation, as they did at the similar affair last season. This concert will be held at Asolian Hall on Saturday evening. The soloists will be Rosalle Miller, soprano; Francis Rogers, barytone; Liebet Hoffman, planist; Abraham Haltovich, blind violinist, and Edward Rechlin, organist.

On the night of April 1 Capt, Eddle Rickenbaker is to relate his wonderful story of experiences in the arean of the United States Government. He will speak in the Metropolitan Opera House under the auspices of the American Fund for French Wounded, the organization of women who are holding the rummage sale mentioned above for the benefit in part of The Sun Tobacco Fund.

Mrs. Isabelle Lathrop, president of the

Mrs. Isabelle Lathrop, president of the American Fund for French Wounded, is on the ocean new and on the afternoon of April 30 she will address the New York members and representatives from other cities on the work. This will occur in the ballroom of the Hotel Commodore, which has been given free for the ceremony by George Sweeney, man-ager, a great friend of THE SUN Tobacco Fund, who favored the women because of what they are inclined to do to help the smoke fund in their rummage sales.

When the soldiers in the Army of Oscupation sit down to acknowledge cigar-ettes and tobacco received from the smoke fund they usually have time and inclination to write a good long letter.

A donor in the latest mail from Germany will get a letter from Jim Boyd, to whose battalion, the 116th Australian Imperial Forces, some cigarettes were given by THE SUN Tobacco Fund on February 28. The writer since then has in his will, which was filed yesterday had fourteen days leave in Paris and in the Surrogates' Court, he provides a fund for the perpetuation of his name Part of that time he used up in going to Colongs. He says:

"I had to chance that, though, because we are not granted leave to go to Germany. I got there all right and had a great time with your Yanks. The German civilians took us Anzacs for Yanks, man civilians took us Anzacs for Yanks. for the best thesis on the subject of which we thought was a big compliment. Cologne is a fine city and what struck me as notable was the cleanliness of the streets. The Germans are not too well off as regards food, and as for many if a off as regards food, and as for soap, if a chap went up there with a load of soap he would make his fortune. The people are all civility to the troops. It seems hard to think that we were fighting these same people a few months ago. I had good times with the American soldiers, who always 'pai' right with us Australians, and they were mighty glad to hear me say that we had shared somewhat in the tobacco gifts that your great fund sends over to the soldiers. The boys in Cologne and Trier are having a good time and all look hearty. I expect town, N. Y., $500; the First Baptist Church, Lawrence, Mass., $5,000; a life church, Lawrence, Mass., $5, if I have any luck and shall tell the folks what fine fellows the Yanks are."

Thanks From Border Town.

Louis Cohen, a fund donor, will rereive a card from A. G. Marrer mailed at Trier, Germany, on March 7. He thanks the donor and THE SUN for cigarettes sent to him there, and says he is a New York boy living at Thirty-fifth street and Eighth avenue. In the same letter he gives this news of replacements who are flocking to Zewen to relieve the homebunch: "If the 166th personnel ergoing the first big upheaval it is undergoing the first big upheaval it has had since the armistice we can at least say that its character is not suf-fering from the change. Reinald Werrenrath, as "Valentin" in Faust, Wins Decided Success.

DEATH SCENE A FEATURE

Large Audience Attends Special Afternoon Performance at the Metropolitan.

The extra performance of "Faust," held yesterday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House, acquired a special interest from the fact that Reinald Werrenrath, the distinguished barytone of the concert world, lately become a mem-ber of the company, sang Volentin for a genuine success with the audienc receiving numerous recalls after the Kirmess and death scenes. Mr. Werrenrath, as already noted here. Mr. Werrenrath, as already noted hers, lacks stage routine. He is still uncomposition fortable in pose and often awkward in kesture. But routine can be learned and there can be no question that this intelligent and sensitive artist will learn it and then launch out into dramatic delineation of his own conception. It can be said that his death scene was acted yesterday astonishingly well for an inexperienced player.

Auguster of the Rev. Endicott Peabody. Crothers is said to be considering for her third and unnamed play a sippy, modern title like "Taxi, Please."
